CARIBOU HIGH SCHOOL

CARIBOU, MAINE

VOLUME XXVI

JUNE, 1954

REFLECTOR

HAYDEN ANDERSON

To Mr. Hayden L. V. Anderson who as superintendent of Caribou Public schools during the past six years of our school life, has provided the inspired leadership for the shaping of the educational policy and program which have provided us with the responsibilities of life; and whose personal interests in each member of our class has been a source of encouragement to us all.

STUART THURSTON

To Mr. Stuart Thurston, who as advisor of our class during its four years in Caribou High School has patiently advised and wisely directed us in the making of many decisions that we have had to make, and whose friendship is one of the most treasured memories which each member of the class will take with him from Caribou High School, we, the class of 1954, dedicate the Reflector.

A Message from Principal DeLois

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR SUCCESS: Your last days at Caribou High School are both happy and sad days for you. Happy, in that you are attaining the education and diploma for which you have worked so diligently thus preparing you better for the job or position in life which you have before you, whether it be college, armed services, nursing, farming or working at some other occupation — whichever the case, put the best you have in you at your chosen field of endeavor.

Sad, for you will be leaving the school to which you have been a family member the past four years. You will be leaving behind other members of this family, members of whom you have become very fond.

Caribou High School is proud to have had you and we believe that you have been an asset to our school.

Good Luck to you and come back to see us often.

Student Office Staff

Probably one of the most essential, efficient, and co-operative organizations of Caribou High school is the ever capable office staff. This department was under the careful direction of Mr. DeLois and the new regular secretary this year, Mrs. June Nelson.

As in every other year, there is usually more work to do in the office than can be handled by just one secretary. Again this year, students of the commercial course who took typing and had a free period available volunteered their services for one period each day to help out in the office. Some of the jobs for which these volunteers were responsible were: to answer the telephone, type daily notices, and deliver them to the homerooms each morning and afternoon. This latter job was probably the most important took a good part of the time. Also these girls did errands while Mr. DeLois and Mrs. Nelson wrote out passes, excuses and tardy slips. These student helpers were Natalie Somers, Charlene Caveny, Greta Green, Paul Parady, Pauline Rossignol, and Gail Parks.

As this office work gave good experience for future jobs, seniors taking typing took turns helping out in the office one period for a week. Their main job was to type the notices, and run them off on the rexograph.

This year Caribou High had the privilege of having an intercommunication system installed in the office. This instrument proved to be of great help to the office workers by eliminating much extra running around. For instance, if a student or teacher received a telephone call, Mr. DeLois, Mrs. Nelson, or one of the regular office helpers would tune into the room where the person was and deliver the message. Also, if an important notice came up unexpectedly, all the rooms could be tuned in and the notice told to all the students at once.

Caribou High students enjoyed the system especially during tournament time. When any Aroostook teams played, the games were broadcast from the radio to all the rooms in the school so that everyone had the pleasure of listening to the games.

SENIORS

The photographic record on the next few pages is intended to introduce and honor each member of the graduating class.

The Class of 1954 has been in the making for at least 12 years. The members represent almost every school in the immediate area served by the High school. In addition, by the usual twists of fate, many of us are quite new to the Class. Perhaps we came here because our fathers were in the Air Force, or perhaps they are helping to build the great base.

At any rate, these last few days will, more than anything else, serve to mold us into a proud unit that only time can ever dissolve.

Highlights Of Graduation Night

Highlights of Graduation Night were: The address by professor York, in which he represented each letter in the word Caribou with the following meaning: C — for Character, A — Ambition, R — Responsibility, I — Industry, B — Bravery, O — Organization, and U — Understanding.

Presentation of the class gift made by the class president Garfield Boutilier. It was accepted by Principal Jess DeLois.

Special awards were made to the following graduates: Emery Knowlton, The Bausch and Lamb Honorary Science award, and the American Agriculturist Award.

Hilda Damboise, recipient of the Beaulieu-Farrington scholarship fund given to a student of the graduating class choosing the teaching profession.

George Derrah, Jr., The National Arion Foundation award.

Mary Lee Johnston and Paul Parady awards signifying accumulation of points in speech.

Greta Espling, the Husson College award to the highest ranking commercial student in the graduating class.

Joan Anderson, the Reader's Digest Award, given annually to the Valedictorian of the graduating class, she having achieved the highest scholastic record during her four years in high school.

Outstanding speeches by the salutatorian, Richard Hatch, and the valedictorian, Joan Anderson were highlights of the graduation ceremonies.

Last, yet first, in importance in the minds of every member of the Class of '54 was the moment when each received his long-awaited diploma.

Senior Class History

Thinking back four years and digging into a box of memories, remember when we were freshmen? We entered our classes with an eager gleam in our eyes and a willing-to-please quality in our work. Although the first few weeks were filled with the confusion of making out schedules and getting oriented in our classes, we managed to hold our first class meeting and to elect the following officers: Cora Paul, president; Carole Johnston, vice-president; Carroll Robertson, secretary; and Luenna Doody, treasurer. Mr. Thurston was voted on as our class advisor. We joined clubs, held dances, and looked up to the seniors as having reached what to us was an almost unattainable position and prestige.

As "silly sophomores" we elected Ellen Hale, president; Garfield Boutilier, vice-president; Theresa Bouchard, secretary; and Mary Lee Johnston, treasurer. Again Mr. Thurston was elected class advisor. We sponsored two dances, "The Leap Year Hop," and "The Love Bug Hop;" with the proceeds we donated financial aid to several beneficial causes, such as the American Red Cross and the Cancer and Heart drive. After viewing many tempting displays, we voted on the size and style of our class rings.

Early in the fall of our junior year we selected as our class officers: Garfield Boutilier, president; Kenneth Wyman, vice president; Mary Lee Johnston, secretary; Coralie Rogers, treasurer; and Mr. Thurston, advisor. One of the highlights of the year was the arrival of the long awaited class rings. These were of various colored backgrounds with the famed Viking head standing out in the center. We selected our class motto, and wrote the class song in preparation for what turned out to be a very successful Junior Exhibition. We finished our junior year by presenting the annual junior prom entitled, "One Breath of Spring."

First of many senior class meetings held weekly on Friday resulted in the election of Garfield Boutilier as president; Phil Thibodeau, vice president; Pauline Rossignol, secretary; and Emery Knowlton, treasurer. Confusion and pandemonium broke out at many of the meetings over important decisions on class dues, graduation committees, and dances. Mr. Thurston, advisor, was patience personified as the seniors at times seemed to act somewhat like freshmen. Sophisticated senior seemed to act somewhat like freshmen. Sophisticated senior or so they are called and suppose to be, yet many worried and troubled minds spent long hours thinking and planning for the future. Some applied to colleges then endured tests, entrance exams, and interviews only to wait in agony until final word was received on their acceptance or their rejection. In the spring civil service exams were given to aspiring young secretaries whose interests lay in the direction of governmental work. We were all ambitious at the year's beginning but as the end drew near the days seemed to be without end. Late in April the class parts and standings were announced by principal Jess DeLois giving the seniors the go ahead signal for Graduation plans. Next came class day with the reading of the class history, will and prophecy.

Class banquet on June fifteenth, where every one enjoyed a hearty turkey dinner, featured the presentation of the class gifts. Senior prom followed on June 17, our final class fling. June eighteenth and Graduation night had arrived at last. The auditorium seemed filled with the color of the girls in white and the boys in maroon gowns, moving slowly down the aisle to take their seats in the front rows. This chapter of 115 lives is rapidly closing, and as the seniors march forward to receive their diplomas each face reflected the hope that the rest of life would hold as much for them as did these four years at Caribou High School.

SENIOR PLAY — Seated: Mr. Haskell, B. Blanchette, S. Johnson, J. Anderson, G. Espling, F. Gagnon, G. Parks, M. Hanley, M. L. Johnston, P. Johnson; standing: C. Cyr, E. Martin, R. Sutherland, D. McDougal, R. McKay, P. Parady, R. Brescia, P. Thibodeau, W. Peterson, M. Hedstrom, D. McDougal, F. Martin, E. Irish, R. Michaud.

"What A Life"

This year the senior class exhibited its talent in the comedy, "What a Life," written by Clifford Goldsmith. The play was ably directed by Mr. Haskell, who was assisted by Pamela Johnson. The setting of the entire play was in the principal's office.

The typical teenager in love was the cause of all the problems and humor in this play. Marvin Hedstrom, playing this teenager, had everyone wondering what would happen next. He had invited Barbara Blanchette, his teen-age girl friend, to the spring dance, and had then been told by his mother, Coralie Rogers, that he had to get the highest mark in his class in the forthcoming Roman History exam before he could go to the dance. Marvin was introduced to the audience when he was called into the office of the principal, Wayne Peterson, for causing a disturbance in his English class. Despite quite a barrage of criticism and sarcasm from the principal's secretary, Greta Espling, Marvin did receive a bit of kindly help from the assistant principal, Phil Thibideau. With a few other people pulling for him, Marvin manages to solve his problems, and attends the dance. Other people in the cast who contributed more wit to the play were: Claude Cyr, Gail Parks, Fred Martin, Joan Anderson, Paul Parady, Mary Lee Johnston, Regina Michaud, Elmer Martin, Frances Gagnon, Gloria Caron, Jean Peterson, Doe Cote, and Mary Hanley.

The audience took special notice of the set, designed and built by Bill Bedard and Dick Lagassee. It played a big part in making the stage look like an office. The lights worked on by Jim Tracy and Garf Boutilier, helped dramatize and enhance each character.

Each senior class thinks that its play was the best, but everyone agrees that "54's" play was outstanding.

JUNIORS

HISTORY

When school opened September, 1951, one of the largest freshman classes of recent years entered Caribou High. There were the usual steps to take upon starting high school, such as making friends and electing subjects, but the class moved along with confidence.

The class settled down to the business of the year ahead and elected as class officers, president, David Bouchard; vice-president, Marilyn Merritt; secretary, Doris Pelletier, and treasurer, Pamela Dickinson. As advisor the class chose Mr. Amsden, and has re-elected him each year.

The freshmen participated in the Freshman-Sophomore Speaking Contest and won the banner, with Roderick Forsman taking first place and Dawne Cormier taking second for their class.

"Blue Moon" was the theme of the dance put on by the class that year at which Marilyn Merritt and Deleston Cote were crowned queen and king. The Vikingaires played for a well-filled gym.

As the school year of 1952-1953 came along, the class of "55" was now the sophomore class, feeling well-versed in the social life of the school, and on friendly terms with a great number of students. Once more officers were elected, and were, president, Dave Bouchard; vice-president, Pamela Dickinson; secretary, Gloria Belanger; and treasurer, Barbara Borden.

The class once more captured the banner at the Freshman-Sophomore Speaking Contest, showing their definite ability in dramatics. Dawne Cormier outdid her previous performance and won first honors, while a newcomer, Mary Rasmussen, came in second.

Leon Malenfant and Doris Pelletier were crowned king and queen at the informal dance, "My Blue Heaven," sponsored by the class that year.

As the class started its junior year September, 1953, it felt very ambitious and determined. The group was now to be considered "upper-classmen" and they were proud of it. As class officers they chose for president, Deleston Cote; vice-president, Barbara Borden; and secretary-treasurer, Dawne Cormier.

The Junior class was much saddened by the death of one of its outstanding classmates, Charlene Helfenstein.

Junior Prom, with the theme of "Serenade In Blue," was held May 14. Elaborate decorations of stars and streamers draped the walls and covered the ceiling of the gym, resulting in the best job of decorating for the year.

The class motto was chosen and a class song was written. The motto "Today We Follow, Tomorrow We Lead" was seen on the stage the night of Junior Exhibition, and the class song was sung at that time. The exhibition was well attended and the speakers were at their best. First place for the girls was won by Carole Allen, who gave "The Creation." Roderick Forsman took first for the boys with "The Button." Dawne Cormier and Peter Fisher were second.

The class was well prepared to start its senior year, and was looking forward to that last phase of high-school life.

Junior Exhibition A High Spot

The class of 1955 on the night of Junior Exhibition presented a colorful and varied spectacle as they marched behind their class marshal, Deleston Cote, to take their places in front row seats. As a class they rose and sang their song, written by Donald Wharton. All eyes then turned to the stage as the speakers entered in two groups composed of six speakers. Those participating and their respective pieces were as follows: Robert Ouellette, "Eighteen" by Charles Brodie; John MacNeil "The Great Woman's Hair Mystery," by Robert Allen; Sandra Lander, "The Congo," by Vachel Lindsey; Dawn Cormier, "Lady Macbeth's Sleepwalking Scene," by Shakespeare; Thomas Collins, "The Ransom of Red Chief," by O. Henry; Roderick Forsman, "The Button," by Robert Newman; Carole Allen, "The Creation," by James Johnson; Donald Wharton, "University Days," by James Thurber; Doris Pelletier, "The Murder of Lidice," by Edna St. Vincent Millay; Peter Fisher, "Of Mice and Men," by John Steinbeck; Rebecca Crane, "Interim," by Edna St. Vincent Millay; and Carol Gagnon, "The Wound Dresser," by Walt Whitman.

After a short delay while the judges were making a difficult decision, the following winners were announced: First place for the girls, Carol Allen, second, Dawn Cormier. First place in the boys division: Roderick Forsman and second place Peter Fisher. Honorable mention for her fine performance was given to Sandra Lander. Judges for the contest were Mrs. Phyllis Brewster, Fort Fairfield, and Mrs. Ruth Carmichael of Lime-stone.

"Today's followers, tomorrow's leaders" is the motto which was chosen by the class of "55."

The effect of many long rehearsals and instruction from helpful teachers was apparent as the Juniors completed their debut in its entirety with a flawless performance.

The class of 1956 entered C. H. S. an awed group. It was a frightening yet happy moment for them. With many new students entering from all parts of the state, the class was larger than ever before. At their first meeting the students elected the following officers: Philip Ouellette, president; Leo Pelletier, vice-president; Linda Townsend, secretary; Carol Cousins, treasurer, and Mr. DeLois, class advisor.

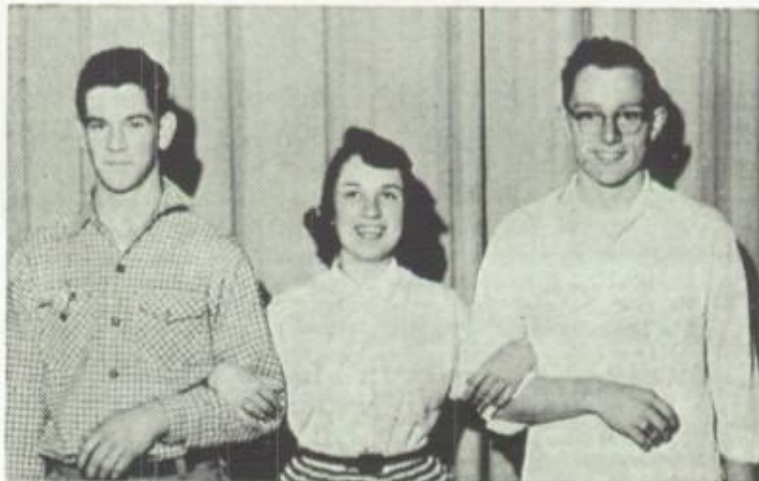

With so large a class, one hundred and ninety all together, it was natural to find freshmen appearing in all school activities. Interest was centered primarily in the music organizations, G.A.A., and intramural sports. They took their places in the life of Caribou High School.

During their sophomore year the class of 56 has been very active. At the first of the year they chose the following students as officers to lead the class: Philip Ouellette, president; Peter Henderson, vice-president; Barbara Bernard, secretary; and Maurice Corrow, treasurer. Mr. DeLois was again elected class advisor, but was forced to resign due to his many duties as principal. Mr. Bryant was voted in to take his place.

One of the big events of the year was the annual Freshman-Sophomore Speaking Contest. In this contest the freshman class competed against the sophomore class to see who would succeed in winning the large maroon and white banner awarded to the class with the most points. Speakers for the Sophomores this year were: Patty Grant, Peter Henderson, Carolyn Solman, Cecil Burgess, and Mary Lou Brown.

Another big event of the year for the class was the "Beachcomber" dance that they put on in June. The gym was beautifully decorated with black and pink crepe paper, fish net strung down from the railing, sea shells and fish pasted along the walls, and at the north end of the gym were placed beach chairs in which the chaperones sat. A large crowd was drawn by the novel decorations and good music. All who attended were required to carry out the theme by wearing clothing appropriate to a beachcomber. Eldora Tompkins and Roger Hale were elected King and Queen of the class in a poll conducted by the Viking Crier. All these factors contributed to the success of the dance which added quite a considerable amount to the treasury.

The boys went right ahead in athletics with two of them going from the freshman basketball team to the Varsity and eight of them making the Junior varsity. Three Sophomore girls were selected for the Girls Varsity basketball team.

The Class of "56" has thus far greatly enjoyed their years at CHS. They are all looking forward to their Junior year.

Underclassmen Vie In Speaking Contest

Wednesday, April 28, the fourth annual Freshman-Sophomore Speaking Contest was held at the Caribou High Auditorium. This event, started for the purpose of encouraging an interest in dramatics in the Freshman and Sophomore classes, is a competitive contest with a banner or plaque awarded to the winning class and medals awarded to the winning speakers. The entire program is under the direction of Speech Director David Haskell. The honors of this year's event were carried off by the class of '56 for the second consecutive year.

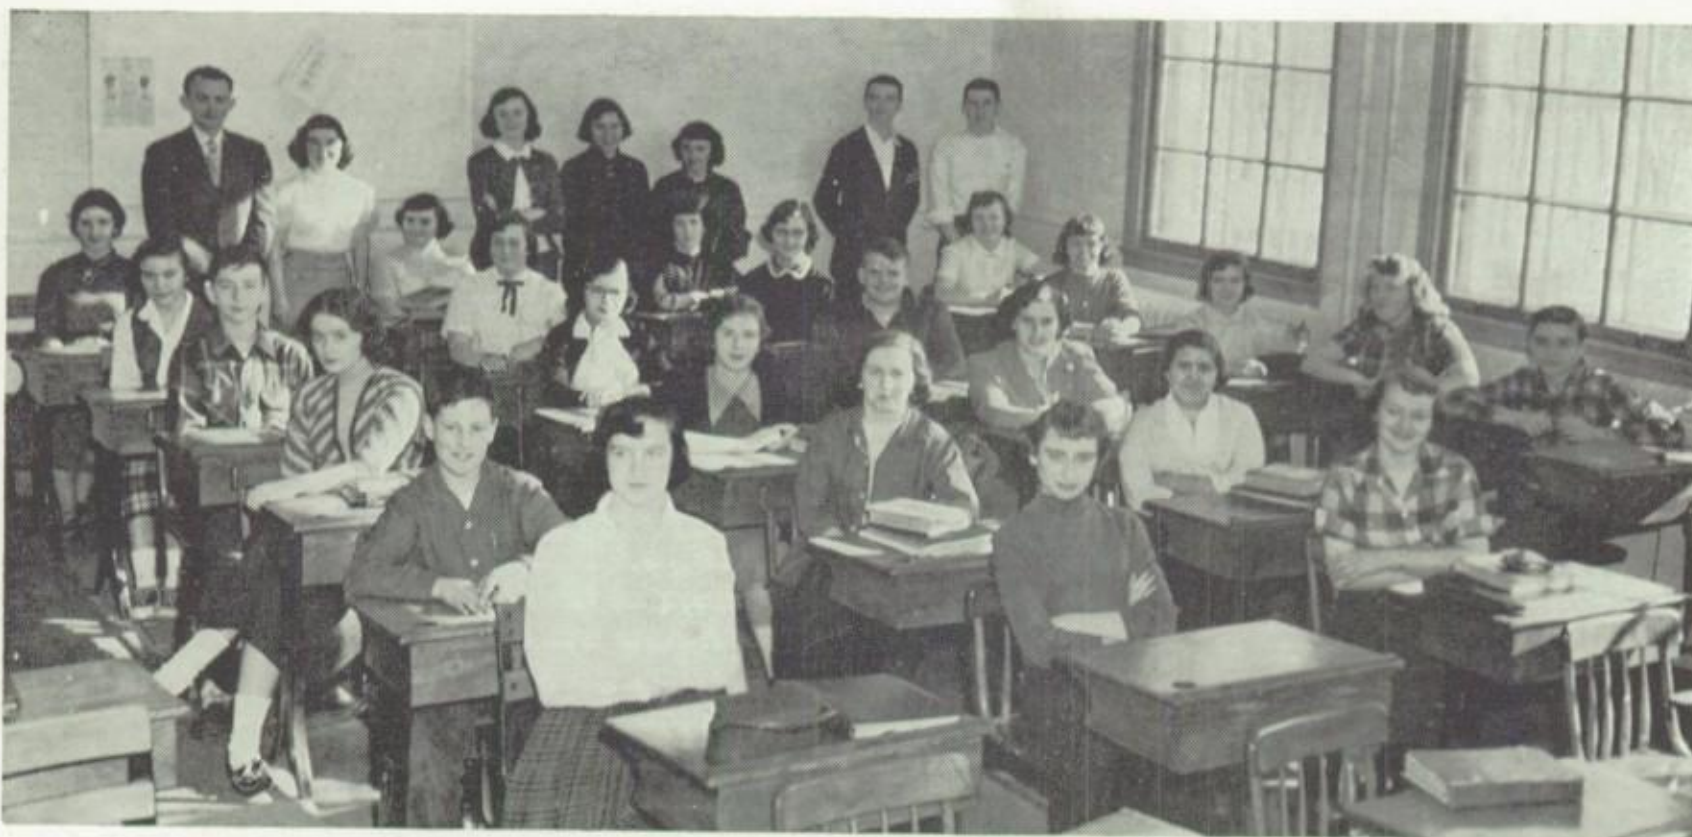

The sophomores who participated in this match were: Carolyn Solman, speaking "Tom Sawyer's Nobility," by Mark Twain; Mary Lou Brown, speaking "Anne of Green Gables," by L. M. Montgomery; Peter Henderson, speaking "Love Is A Fallacy," by Max Schulman; Cecil Burgess, speaking "The Cremation of Sam McGee," by Robert Service; and Patty Grant, speaking "The Waltz," by Dorothy Parker.

Those who represented the freshman class and the pieces they gave were: Yvonne

Pelletier, with "Jane," by Booth Tarkington; Rita Dumont, with "Bells," by Edgar Allen Poe; Jane Briggs, with "Pride and Prejudice," by Jane Austen; Henrietta White, with "Magic Night," by Rosemary Howland; and Mary Buzzell with "Sorry, Wrong Number," by Allen Ullman. Because of this wide variety in the selections, the attention of the audience was constant throughout the evening.

After the judges left to make their decision, there was much speculation over their choice for each speaker did a fine job. Finally, the judges, Mrs. Richard Wentworth of Caribou and Mrs. Earl Carmichael of Fort Fairfield returned and handed their vote to the principal Mr. DeLois, who made the announcement. The sophomores won the plaque and the prize speakers were Patty Grant, who won first place; Carolyn Solman, who won second; and Jane Briggs, who won third.

Much credit was due Mr. Haskell for the time spent coaching and Paul Parady who prompted.

FRESHMEN

Through the confusion of their first class meeting the freshmen elected the following officers: Peter Tournquist, president; Phillip Tardiff, vice-president; Ernest Pelletier, secretary; and Mary Snowman, treasurer. Mr. Haskell was elected class advisor.

Three days were spent being very thoroughly initiated by the seniors. During this period the freshmen were required to sing, open doors, bow, carry books and wear an assortment of outfits. Those who refused were taken before a punishment council composed of seniors. The last day of initiation an assembly was held in the gym and those who came before the council were given light punishments.

The freshmen took an active part in school organizations, sending members to the Student Council, the music organizations, sports and other clubs.

During the Curtis Campaign the freshmen sold more subscriptions than any other class, and earned $50 for their treasury.

In the spring the class sponsored an "April Shower's Dance" and proved themselves capable of producing fine entertainment.

All in all, the freshmen showed themselves worthy representatives of Caribou High.

JUNIOR HIGH

HISTORY

THE CLASS OF "58"

The class of 58 entered their eighth grade year with the confident feeling coming from having already spent a year in the same environment. They were active this year with their own clubs and sports all formed on a smaller scale than are those at the high school. At the first school class meeting the following eighth grade officers were elected: Keith Grant, president; Samuel McNeal, vice-president; Linda Murry, secretary; and Dale Whiten, treasurer.

THE CLASS OF "59"

With the beginning of their seventh grade year, the class of 59 entered into what seemed to them a new world. Here they found more teachers, rooms, classes starting and ending with bells, besides all the rules so confusing to the new-comers.

They elected the following class officers: Jean McLaughlin, president; Sandra Wyman, vice-president; Carolyn Duncan, secretary; and Daniel Brewer, treasurer. The eighth grade advisor, Miss Hoyt, and Mrs. Haskell, seventh grade advisor, deserve a lot for the patient guidance and help that they gave to students of the Junior High.

Northern Maine's Outstanding Band . . .

This year Caribou High had one of the best bands ever. Every section, from brasses to the reeds and the percussion, was at full strength enabling director, Mr. Ken Matthews, to use selections that would bring out the best of each group. Many of these band numbers were difficult arrangements used by well-known bands throughout the country. The stirring overture, "Shangria-La" was played by the Caribou High band for the first time. Stimulating marches such as "On the Mall," "National Emblem" and "Connecticut March" were performed with ease and accuracy.

For the past three years, as a specialty number at basketball games, the band has played a "jump" song. Three years ago it was the very popular "Business in Bb." Last year everyone liked "Joshua" and this year people left the gym humming strains from Ray Anthony's "Trumpet Boogie." This number was the most difficult of the there due to a very close harmony, but, as usual, the band turned out a first rate performance.

Setting another precedent, the band put on two concerts, contrary to the habit of doing only one. This meant learning twice as many selections and having them ready for an audience.

The band also broke fresh ground by being the only one in Aroostook to use student conductors. These were Natalie Somers, Jane Briggs, and Peter Henderson. They directed marches at the late spring concert, and did a fine job.

The greatest step made this year, however, was the purchase of trousers for the entire group. Thanks to strong backing from the Band Parents Club, enough money was raised from food sales, concerts, and candy sales to send for the trousers.

May 21, the band and other musical groups journeyed to the Northern Maine Music Festival at Millinocket to enter into competition with groups from the area. The band earned superior ratings, thus upholding the fine record and tradition of the group.

GIRLS' CHORUS — Row 1: L. Getchell, M. Brown, E. Irish, M. Beaulieu, H. Damboise, L. Devoe, J. Peterson, A. Crouse, L. St. Peter, M. Plant, M. Kennedy, L. Dubey, L. Baldwin, B. Clevette, R. Shepherd, M. Lagassie, M. Deprey, S. Squirrell, E. Cote, M. Hanley; row 2: M. Campbell, M. Akerson, G. Caron, M. Thompson, M. Merritt, N. Derrah, C. Allen, G. Belanger, W. Parks, M. Blackstone, T. O'Niel, G. Gardner, M. Clark, G. Parks, D. Bradford, B. Sutherland, C. Lovely, F. York, S. Nadeau, A. St. Peter; row 3: W. Kelley, D. Conant, L. Todd, W. Baldwin, J. Belyea, L. Wark, M. Snowman, J. Briggs, R. Harmon, V. Dickinson, P. Curry, P. Johnson, C. Blackstone, M. Sturgeon, J. Allen, S. Tall, M. Harmon, C. Lyon, F. Gagnon, G. Espling, J. Martin, C. Caveney; row 4: D. DeMerchant, M. Wardwell, J. Cason, S. Johnson, T. Norsworthy, D. Deveau, B. McBreairty, V. Lind, K. Norell, B. Blanchette, M. Buchanan, J. Leavitt, G. Paradis, P. Doak, C. Peterson, B. Brewer, L. Chase, R. Wardwell, G. Hanson, N. Somers, C. Johnston.

. . . and Glee Club

More than once the mellow sounds of beautiful music could be heard drifting up from the music room where the Girls Glee Club was practicing, and again this year the club has given added attraction to the music department of C.H.S. with their high standard of singing. Because of the large number of girls singing, a different plan, which proved very successful, was adopted to give Mr. Matthews an opportunity to accomplish more with the group. The club was divided into three separate groups, each meeting every Monday and Wednesday. A president, secretary-treasurer, and librarian were elected from each group. Presidents were: Pamela Johnson, Natalie Somers and Dawne Cormier; secretary-treasurers, Greta Espling, Marilyn Merritt, and Frances Gagnon; librarians, Mary Alice Buchanan, Betty Brewer, and Iris Mahoney. Mr. Matthews was director.

Since the Glee Club was so large, some of the best singers from each group formed to sing for concerts. At the Annual Fall Review they sang "It's a Grand Night for Singing," "Lo, a Voice," and the ever popular "Night and Day." Then at the Winter Carnival Coronation they co-operated by singing a few numbers. In May another concert was staged for the people of the town. This time the girls sang the patriotic tune, "Your Land and My Land"; the Negro spirituals, "So's I Can Write My Name" and "Dry Bones"; and the very beautiful "Tenderly," with its modern variations and chords. This was undoubtedly the favorite of almost all the club.

In their final appearance the Girls' Glee Club sang at the Northern Maine Music Festival, this year held on May 22 in Milinocket.

They sang three songs which were "Lo, A Voice," "It's A Grand Night for Singing," and "Your Land And My Land." A superior rating was given to their performance by one of the top judges in the state. Caribou High School is proud of the great strides that have been made in the quality of music played and sung by all its musical organizations. The Glee Club has become better each year, by singing more numbers with differen modern harmonies. There is always room for improvement though, and that saying seems to be the Glee Clubs special motto.

DANCE BAND — Seated: S. Cousins, M. Barrett, R. Solman; standing: R. Hatch, B. Raymond, G. Derrah, P. Henderson.

After buying new music and rehearsing whenever possible, the Vikingaires started their season.

They played several out-of-town dances, with Christmas week the busiest time. Many dances at the Recreation Center were also done by this group.

The addition of such numbers as "Bunny Hop," "Beer Barrel Polka" and "Mexican Hat Dance" did much to heighten the popularity of the band. These, rendered with the old favorites, "September Song," "Tenderly," "Body and Soul" and "Blue Moon," provided the tempo for the dancing.

Incidental Music

Caribou High School may well be proud of the newest addition to the music department — an accordion band. It is the only one of its kind in Aroostook County and possibly the only one in the entire state. The band, which was started because of the numerous requests from interested students, rehearsed

Thursdays after school in the music room.

The steadily increasing number of members made it possible to plan for two classes next year, one of which will be a more advanced group.

Some of the accordion players took part in the Recreation Musical Review.

ACCORDIAN BAND — B. Brown, J. Bell, L. Brown, J. Drost, R. Sullivan, R. Bubar, M. St. Germaine; absent: M. Nelson, B. Berglind.

Boys' Chorus Gains Recognition

A conflict faced the students who wanted to join the Boys' Chorus early in the school year when an agreement could not be reached on a practice period. A settlement was made when Mr. Matthews, chorus director, announced that two periods for Boys' Chorus would be offered, one the first period on Tuesdays and Thursday and the other during the fourth period of the same days.

Officers were elected for each period and were as follows: period one, president, Roderick Forsman; secretary-treasurer and publicity manager, Peter Fisher; librarian, Robert Solman; and assistant librarian, David Wakem. Period four officers were, president, Jim Tracy; secretary-treasurer and publicity manager, Paul Parady; librarian, Robert Raymond; and assistant librarian Garfield Boutilier.

The boys chorus sang in the two concerts, in many assemblies and made a guest appearance at the Coronation of the Winter Carnival Queen.

While in Millinocket for the Music Festival the boys achieved a top rating, one of the best they have ever earned.

Such numbers as "Winter Song," "Riff Song" from "The Desert Song," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "Dedication" were featured on their programs.

Soloists were Mike Sorel and Phil Thibodeau, both first tenors.

The Caribou Chorus furnished a number of voices for the All Aroostook Chorus.

During the year original words by Donald Wharton were added to the tune of the Alma Mater Song," which was used at the spring concert and at the Northern Maine Music Festival. The chorus also made variations on the "Battle Hymn of The Republic," which was sung at the spring concert.

After the festival the chorus worked on such numbers as, "Road to Mandalay," "Old Man River," "Tea For Two," and "Softly As In A Morning Sunrise."

The Boys' Chorus ended their activities this year by singing at Graduation. All told, the Chorus had a very rewarding season, and look forward to doing even better next year.

ALL-AROOSTOOK BAND, ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS MEMBERS — Seated: D. Cyr, R. Crane, E. Irish, G. Gardner, J. Briggs, W. Kelley, M. Beaulieu, P. Grant, A. Tupper, P. Godbois; standing, first row: P. Parady, M. Barrett, F. Clayton, C. Gagnon, R. Solman, P. Henderson, D. Wharton, R. Forsman, R. Hatch, G. Derrah, D. Babin; third row: R. Lagassie, M. Buchanan, J. Cason, R. Nelson, R. Raymond, M. Sorel, M. Hanley, J. Allen, C. Allen, M. Laffaty.

Star Performers

The All-Aroostook Concert of 1954, which was held at Easton, was acclaimed as the best of the many that have been held during the four years this organization has been in existence.

All-Aroostook offers a great opportunity for music-loving high school students to belong to a group of the most talented musicians in Aroostook County. Representatives from Caribou, Ashland, Easton, Fort Fairfield, Houlton, Bridgewater, Mars Hill, Mapleton, Washburn, Presque Isle, Limestone, and Ricker were all present when the practices started. With only enough funds available this year to present one concert, practices were held on two consecutive Saturdays, starting at 9:30 and ending at 4:00, with a break for lunch. It seemed like a great deal of music to absorb in two days, but everyone enjoyed it.

In its fourth season, the All-Aroostook band was ready for advanced music. Difficult numbers, such as "The March of the Steelmen," "In The Cathedral," "Them Basses," "Park Avenue Fantasy," and "Boston Commander" were played. One director when asked about this year's Band, said that it could be compared with last year's All Maine Band.

After only two all-day rehearsals, the All-Aroostook Chorus which consisted of both boys and girls, sang the following numbers: "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," "Cherubim Song No. 77," "Ride The Chariot," "Evening Prayer," and "Dream Pantomime" from Hansel and Gretel, and "Cindy." Judging from the audience's enthusiastic response, the chorus was a success.

A new member of the All-Aroostook organization, and judged a "pioneer in music" in the State of Maine, was the All-Aroostook Orchestra. Included in its program were the following numbers: "Chorale," "Russian Chorale and Overture," "Blue Moon," and "Our Director March." At the concert in Easton, the Orchestra gave a wonderful performance and proved itself a worthy addition to All-Aroostook.

Each director from the schools participating had one or two numbers to direct and rehearse.

Other Talented Musicians

"B" BAND — Row 1: A. Getchell, P. McGrath, D. Crane, C. Walton, H. Adler, G. Gardner, T. Sinclair, R. Norsworthy, F. Anderson, M. Chaloult, M. Mosher; row 2: H. Pierson, R. Peterson, R. Bennett, L. Murray, J. Burleigh, U. Kinney, D. Espling, D. Norbeck, J. Kidney, R. Mahoney, R. Cyr; row 3: F. Kidney, D. Thomas, W. Harvey, C. Cyr, G. Bragdon, A. Babin, F. Sprague, G. Wark; row 4: S. Cousins, M. Laffaty, R. Miller, K. Cote, R. Harmon, R. Burleigh, W. Blair, R. Barnes, R. Harris, A. Tupper, S. Lander, R. McCrossin.

Senior English Club

To be eligible for membership in the Senior English Club, one must be a junior or senior with grades in English meeting the required "A" or "B." Officers elected to run the club activities this year were the following: Carole Allen, president; Tommy Collins, vice president; Linda Chase, secretary; and George Mauro, treasurer. Because George transferred to Limestone High School, Betty Brewer replaced him as treasurer.

The purpose of the organization is to promote interest in English. At one meeting a play entitled, "Confessional," by Percival Wild, was presented by club members.

The main project of the club this year was caring for the school library. Sandra Lander planned a schedule of working hours in which each member would give up a certain number of study periods during the year to work in the library. Mrs. Piper, town librarian, spoke to the members at one meeting on the topic of "Where and How to Find Information in the Library." Several meetings have been spent cleaning and dusting library books, and straightening out the bookshelves.

Besides meetings after school, the club had a social evening at the home of Betty Ginn. The whole group ended the year with an outing at Madawaska Lake. They were the guests of Mrs. Anderson, club advisor.

B BAND

Members of the B Band rehearsing Tuesdays and Thursdays in the morning from 8:00 to 8:30 strove to perfect techniques which would enable them to become members of the High School A Band.

Under the direction of Mr. Matthews they have played such numbers as "Land of The Free," a medley including America's more famous patriotic songs; "Captain Johnn's Pipe," a collection of marches; "Breath of spring Waltz"; "Grand March," by Palmer Clark; such novelty songs as "Um-Pah-Pah," "Round the Band," "Little Wooden Soldier"; and the overture to "Jerry of Jericks Road."

ORCHESTRA

Rehearsing every Friday morning first period in the auditorium, the C.H.S. musicians have produced one of the finest orchestras in New England.

Some members were selected to participate in the fourth annual All Aroostook Orchestra which formed part of a concert given in Easton.

Along with a number of other branches of the Music Department the Orchestra traveled to Millinocket to attend one of the highest ratings awarded during the day.

FRENCH CLUB — Seated: M. L. Johnston, J. Anderson, R. Crane, M. Merritt, D. Pelletier, B. Brewer; standing: Mr. Frechette, S. Lander, D. Norbeck, V. Dumais, P. Doak, T. Collins, P. Fisher, T. Norsworthy.

Language Specialists

This year the French Club, although smaller and less active than last year, did much to brighten interest in French. A possible project and goal of the club is to go on a trip to Quebec City.

The officers elected at the first of the year were Marilyn Merritt, president; Valmore Dumais, vice-president; Carol Gagnon, secretary; and Mary Thompson, treasurer. The advisor for this club was Mr. Frechette.

Several meetings were held, and plans for raising money were discussed. Also, it was decided to have projects for each member to work on that would enlarge his knowledge of some particular aspect of life in Quebec City. Later, on the trip to Quebec, the individuals would explain their project to the rest of the club.

Plans were also made for inviting students from Quebec City into the members homes for a week or two this summer. This idea was suggested by the members of the French Club in Fort Fairfield, who have been to Quebec, and have asked the students to come here. If the project worked out successfully, the Caribou members would be invited to stay at Quebec.

There are several reasons why a trip to Quebec was the goal of the club. It would give members the opportunity to use their French, to see the French schools and famous landmarks in and about Quebec City, and to observe the French customs firsthand. Also, Mr. Frechette is himself a native of Quebec City, and extremely familiar with all the countryside and points of interest. He would be able to bring out the most worthwhile points during the visit.

This year membership in the club was limited to those students that are taking French in school. It was felt that these people would have a greater interest in the work of the club, and would therefore be more willing to co-operate in the activities.

A committee was set up to revise the constitution. It was felt that certain changes were necessary in regard to membership in the club.

At the close of the year the club planned a picnic combined with an initiation ceremony. This was a new idea, suggested by Mr. Frechette, so as to enable him to plan for the coming year.

VIKING CRIER — Seated: J. Anderson, J. Ketch, L. Getchell, H. Damboise, J. Cason, S. Johnson, F. Gagnon, P. Johnson, P. Rossignol, N. Sommers, C. Caveney; standing: Miss Clark, F. Martin, S. Pelletier, S. Lander, M. Gould, M. Buzzell, R. Solman, P. Henderson, P. Thibodeau, P. Parady, M. L. Johnston, M. Hanley, M. Ketch, G. Parks, E. Goulette.

Popular School Publication

Enjoying its second year as an independent club, the Viking Crier has progressed to such an extent that it is now one of the ten top mimeographed high school newspapers in the state. A monthly publication with all work done by high school students, the Crier is an important part of the school routine.

Every week the Viking Crier sends "roving reporters" to make surveys of the students' opinions on questions concerning school life. The paper strives to give an accurate coverage of all sports and club activities and musical and dramatic events. The Crier also contains informative articles about the teachers, school life in general, fashions for the high school teen-agers and the favorite of everyone, a gossip section.

Paul Parady, who was editor for the second successive year, headed the staff composed of Joan Anderson, assistant editor; Mary Lee Johnston, feature editor; Sandra Johnson, news editor; Juanita Ketch, art editor; Coralie Rogers and Freddy Martin, sports editors; and Mary Buchanan, production manager. Reporters were Mary Hanley, Carole Johnston, Anne St. Peter, Sue Pelletier, Esther Goulette, Charlene Caveny, Marie Brown, Barbara Bernard, Pauline Rossignol, Phil Thibodeau, and Cecil Burgess. Cutting stencils for the staff were Hilda Damboise, Joyce Bourgoine and Luella Getchell.

Entered in the Colby College Echo Lovejoy Newspaper Contest each year for the last five years, the Crier now stands in third place. Each year the goal of the staff is to try to raise the standing of the last year, until the paper holds first place.

To prepare the publication for the next year the co-editors have been chosen and are Sandra Lander and Marian Gould.

This year the Viking Crier published several outstanding numbers. Stories exchanged with other towns added interest, more art work gave life to the copy, and original ideas for the method of presenting the articles drew much attention.

The Viking Crier in the past has performed the duty of informing students of current happenings in and about the school. Its functions are recognized as a vital part of student expression. It will continue to carry on this work.

Girls Serve Home, School, Community

The Tri-Hi-Y a service club sponsored by the Youn Women's Christian Association and open to girls only, has been very active in Caribou High this past year.

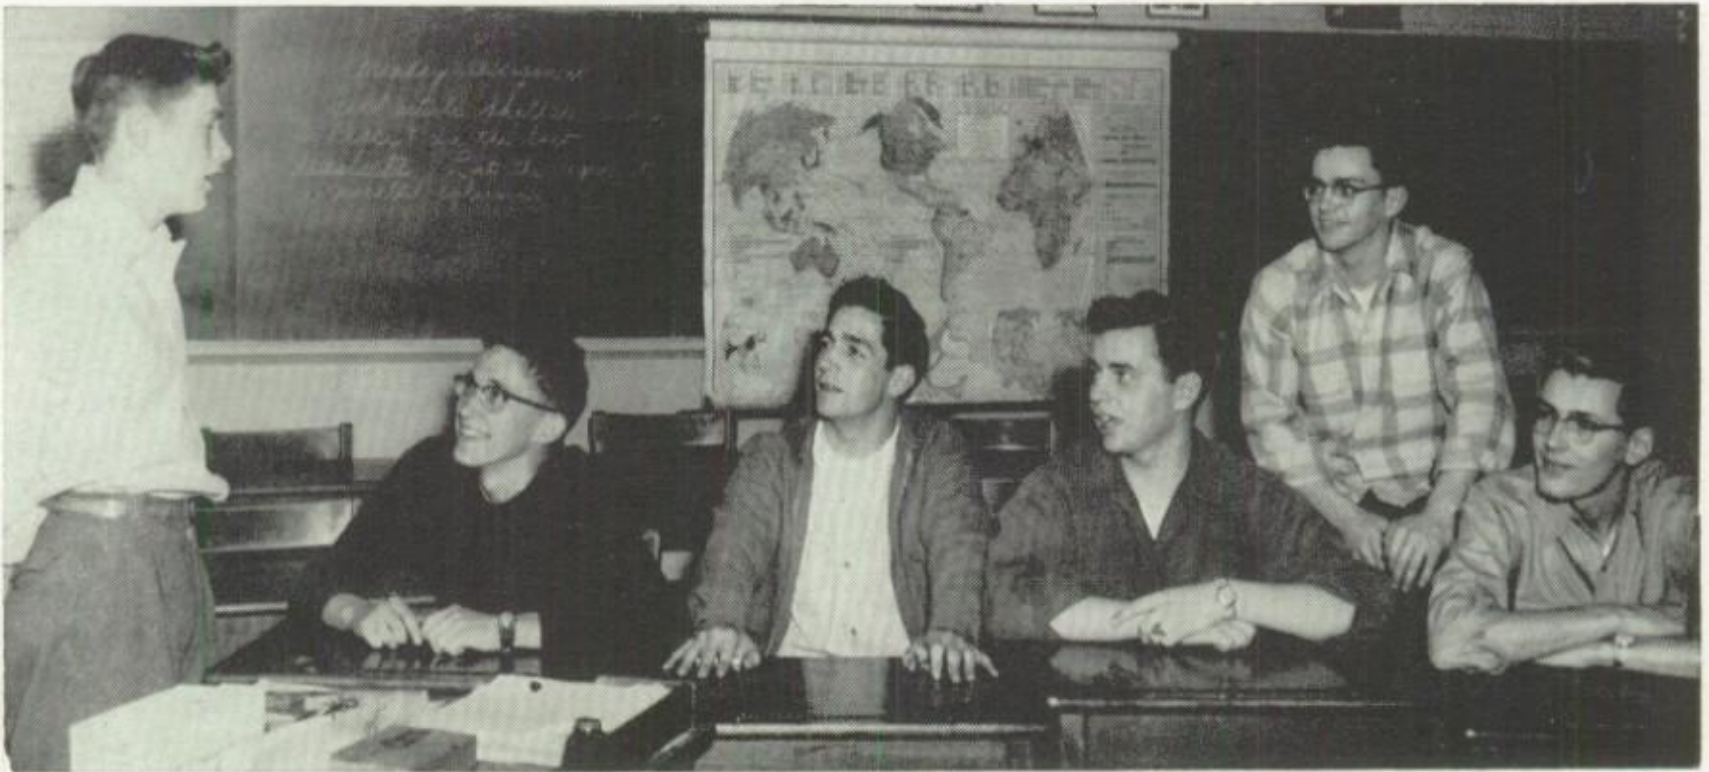

Early in the year the club met and elected Ellen Hale as president; Elaine Irish, as vice-president; Pamela Johnson, as secretary; Gail Armstrong as treasurer; and Sandra Johnson, chaplain. The Tri-Hi-Y planned and worked on the following worthwhile projects: cleaning the trophies in the library showcase, restocking the guidance room with up-to-date material from various colleges and schools, sponsoring a junior high social, and buying a basket for a needy family at Christmas time.

Other highlights of the year were a Thanksgiving dinner for all the club members at Elaine Irish's home, and a very impressive initiation ceremony held in May with all the girl's parents attending.

In March Elaine Irish, Betty Brewer, Ellen Hale, delegates, and Sandra Johnson, alternate, attended a training session for a Hi-Y Youth Government project, the Tri-Hi-Y—Hi-Y Model Legislature. They spent a day in Bangor at the University of Maine. In the morning everyone was instructed in the legislative procedure by members of the Maine House of Representatives. Elections were held in the afternoon with Ellen Hale being chosen as Chaplain of the House of Representatives. Due to the illness of two of the delegates, Sandra Johnson, Betty Brewer, and Laureen Baldwin went to Augusta in April. There each representative and senator was assigned to seats in the Capitol building where they participated in debate and action on bills submitted by Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y clubs throughout the state. A bill having to do with lowering the voting age to 18, sent in by the Caribou Tri-Hi-Y, was debated on for two hours in the House before it went to the Senate where it was rejected.

The Tri-Hi-Y has now become well-established and is looking forward to many more active seasons.

HI-Y — F. Martin, R. Ouellette, J. Tracy, P. Parady, T. Collins, G. Boutilier.

Boys' Group Has High Ideals

Affiliated with the national Y.M.C.A. movement, the Hi-Y club of Caribou has come a long way in its two years of renewed organization. Enlarging the total membership was the goal of the members this year. Heading the slate of officers was Freddie Martin, president; along with Peter Fisher, vice-president; Paul Parady, secretary-treasurer and Robert Mockler, chaplain. Much of the success of the club is due to the hard and untiring efforts of Mr. Edward Tracy, the club's advisor.

Representing the club at the thirty-second Hi-Y Older Boys' Conference headquarters in Waterville, the boys took part in discussion groups on problems of the youth in today's world. A report on the resolutions of these discussions was given to the home club on their return. Robert Mockler and George Derrah were elected to represent the club at the State Mock-Legislation held on April third and fourth in Augusta. While there the boys studied the different departments of the state government.

Among the services which the club undertook were attempts to paint the recreation center, and participating in the state and national service programs laid out by the club headquarters.

In a recent Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Campaign in Caribou, the Hi-Y helped considerably by organizing a parade and band concert. Chairman of the parade was advisor Edward Tracy and Freddie Martin.

Holding joint meetings with the Tri-Hi-Y proved an outlet for needed social life. A combined Tri-Hi-Y picnic held at the Lion's picnic grounds ended a successful year.

USHERS — Kneeling: M. A. Todd, J. Shepherd; standing, first row: G. Parks, Mrs. Belyea, A. King, E. Thompkins, M. Gould, B. Bouchard, S. Allen, M. Akerson; second row: J. Allen, B. DeMerchant, J. Mushrall, L. Erickson, B. Sutherland, M. Campbell, D. DeMerchant, H. Damboise.

In Behalf Of Their School

The ushers were very active this year, lending their services to many worth-while causes. This group, under the direction of Mrs. Belyea, was organized solely for the purpose of providing ushers, attendants and ticket takers at high-school functions. The girls elected Gail Parks as head usher this year.

Some of the activities that the girls ushered at were the Community Concerts, Graduation, Band Concerts, Dramatic events, the "Gay Nineties Review," the "Guys and Gals" and many others.

Again this year as in the past the Curtis Campaign has proved beneficial to the High School in many ways. It was rewarding to the students participating, with prizes of radios, watches, jackets, and basketballs among the many received. The school received a large sum of money for its share of the campaign, which was used this year for the installation of an intercommunication system.

Heading the campaign this year and doing an outstanding job was Garfield Boutilier as general manager, assisted by Rebecca Crane. Prize manager was Ellen Hale with Deleston Cote as assistant.

CURTIS CAMPAIGN — Seated: E. Hale, R. Crane; standing: G. Boutilier, Mr. Amsden, D. Cote.

Girls Learn Homemaking Skills

Under the capable leadership of the following officers: Theresa Bouchard, president; Joyce Martin, vice-president; Loretta Bourgoine, secretary; and Mary Hanley, treasurer; the Future Homemakers of America have completed another busy and successful year in Caribou High School. Miss Burns and Mrs. Amsden served the girls capably as advisors.

As in past years the Future Homemakers held their annual initiation for their new members. All parents were invited to attend the impressive candlelight ceremony in the Caribou High School auditorium. When the ceremonies were over, refreshments were served, after which the girls modeled for the guests, dresses which they had made.

To celebrate the Christmas season the Club members decided to have a party. Preparations were made for the big night with different committees formed to plan the activities. The party featured Christmas carolling, a scavenger hunt, and of course, refreshments.

The Future Homemakers were a big help to the Future Farmers as they served as waitresses at the annual Future Farmers Father-Son banquet.

A very successful barn dance was sponsored by the above organization which presented as one of its highlights the crowning of a King, Russell Sutherland and a Queen, Theresa Bouchard.

Perhaps the most looked forward to event of the year was the Annual Mother-Daughter luncheon. Held in the High School gymnasium, the mothers were made welcome by a very enthusiastic group of club members. After the luncheon, a meeting was held wherein various girls were awarded organization pins, degrees, and other Future Homemakers of America awards. These awards symbolized the amount of work the recipients had put into making the Future Homemakers a worthwhile and active organization.

Farm Boys Demonstrate Ability

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization for boys studying agriculture. The Future Farmers in Caribou are one of the most progressive organizations in the school. This year they elected as officers for 1953-1954 the following boys: president, Lloyd White; vice-president, Robert Campbell; secretary, Russell Sutherland; treasurer Dale Cote; reporter, Roger Andrews; and sentinel, Gary Richards. The advisors for the Future Farmers this year were Mr. Alton Bridges and Mr. Philip Rogers.

Two of the annual activities of the Future Farmers this year were the Father-Son Banquet and the Future Homemakers-Future Farmers Dance; both very successful. The Father-Son Banquet was held in January at the Teague Park School. After a formal business meeting Town Manager Donald Chick spoke to the group on "Town Government." Supper was served by the girls of the Future Homemakers Association. The Esquires played to a capacity crowd for the dance in February. Refreshments were served by the Future Homemakers.

Last June Mr. Bridges and several of the members attended the twenty-first annual state Future Farmers' convention at Orono. There the boys competed in various contests. Roger Andrews entered the poultry judging division; Charles Parady, the milk judging; Lloyd White, potatoes division; Wesley Smith, dairy judging; and Robert Campbell, farm mechanic and rope splicing.

On January 16, members attended the Northern District Meeting at Ashland and participated in various events. Ronald Hale and Gilbert Gallagher won the foul shooting contest there and Richard Belyea won second in an electrification contest sponsored by the Electric Utilities of the State of Maine.

Two initiation ceremonies were held this year one on May 25 and one on March 2. Sixteen boys passed exams and were initiated as Green Hands. Nine passed the requirements for earning a Chapter Farmer Degree. The constitution sets up certain qualifications which each student must meet before becoming a member. Some of these are: planning satisfactory programs for supervised farming, being able to recite the F. F. A. creed and being regularly enrolled in vocational agriculture. The student is then given an exam which he must pass to become a member.

To complete their year, the club members plan to go again to the University of Maine, June 23 and 24 for the annual state convention.

ONE ACT PLAY — J. Anderson, G. Mauro, M. L. Johnston; standing: Mr. Haskell.

Actors Enter State Competition

Caribou High had a successful year in the one-act play division with its production, "The Red Key" by Charles Emery. It was a tense drama with a cast of three who were Joan Anderson as Hester, Mary Lee Johnston as Karen and George Mauro as Nicholas. "The Red Key" was first seen March 19, 1954, in the one-act play contest of the northern district of Maine. Fort Fairfield competed at Caribou, and Ricker, Houlton, and Mapleton competed at Houlton. The plays were all judged by Mrs. Laniel Morris and Caribou was selected to enter in the state finals at Brunswick.

Friday noon, April 9, the cast of three, with Director David Haskell and Mr. Amsden, left by car to travel to Brunswick. The play was presented Saturday afternoon. Saturday evening a banquet was held for all the play casts, and speeches were made by the district judges. The final decision was announced at the close of the last play and then the Caribou cast left for home.

Other schools in the state finals were Bangor, Brunswick, Bar Harbor, Strong, Berwick, and Madison. Bangor won first place with its excellent performance of the play, "Dark Brown"; Bar Harbor was judged second with its show, "The Critic," an unusual production in which the cast was composed of people selected from the audience. These two schools competed in the New England one-act play finals. It was announced unofficially that Caribou received third place. Mary Lee Johnston, it was announced, received honorary mention as the outstanding actress.

In brief, "The Red Key" deals with the visit of Karen to the home of Nicholas and his mentally ill sister, Hester. These two were friends of her father, who had disappeared seven years before. Hester attempts to convince Karen that her father was murdered by Nicholas and that his remains lie behind a locked door. As a result of Nicholas' strange behavior Karen becomes suspicious, accepting the story, and finally demands that Nicholas open the locked door. After an explanation of his actions Nicholas gives Karen the key, forcing her to choose between his friendship and opening the door.

"Our Town" Season's First Hit

December 11, 1953 was a big night at Caribou High School, when a cast of twenty-three presented "our Town" by Thornton Wilder. The play demonstrated a unique form of art to the audience, in that it was presented without the usual elaborate setting, the illusion being gained through the pantomime of the actors. After the initial surprise at the lack of properties, the audience co-operated with the actors and the play was thoroughly enjoyed.

The leading role in the play was taken by Fred Martin, who did an excellent job as the stage manager, a congenial old man who strolled on and off the stage explaining the proceedings to the audience.

Other major parts were those of Dr. and Mrs. Gibbs, portrayed by Arthur Pike and Joan Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Webb, by Bob Raymond and Mary Hanley; and the young romantic leads, Emily Webb and George Gibbs, by Rebecca Crane and Jim Tracy.

The supporting roles were filled by Melvin Howe, Einar Gustafson, Pete Fisher, Laura Wilson, Richard Hatch, George Derrah, Ellen Hale, Darrell McDougal, Peter Godbois, Robert Craine, Robert Mockler, Natalie Derrah, Carol Allen, Garfield Boutilier, Pete Henderson and Robert Solman.

Those who worked behind the curtains and helped make the play the success it was were Coralie Rogers and Eudora Cote, who directed their helpers in obtaining costumes and applying make-up; publicity manager, Paul Parady; and lighting manager, Willard Stevens. Clayton Gagnon and Peter Henderson worked hard as assistant stage managers and Mary Lee Johnston spent long hours directing and prompting in her capacity as assistant director.

With this unusually large group, a choir directed by Mr. Kenneth Matthews was also used in the play.

The play presented three phases of life in a small New Hampshire town, Grover's Corners, and in particular revolved around the growing up of Emily Webb and George Gibbs. The first act showed the development of their friendship, the second act portrayed love and marriage, and the third act dealt with death.

"Our Town" was very effective and should be remembered as one of the best plays Caribou High ever produced.

Students Edit Annual

For many years graduating classes of Caribou High School have produced a book which for many reasons each graduate considers indispensable. It serves as a permanent record of four important high school years. Questions on the names of boys on Caribou's greatest baseball team or the girl who won the Star Speaking Shield can best be answered by digging out the old Reflector. Its pages contain praise for teachers and students who have each in their own way, made school a pleasant place in which to work and play. This book has continually changed in size, color and content yet has always been planned to live up to its name "The Reflector."

Essential to any yearbook is a competent, hard-working staff who will and can devote much time to the effective completion of a given task. A faculty advisor who insures cooperation between the student workers and the faculty, and who balances the inexperience of the staff with information and advice, often is the difference between a good and a poor production.

In late November after a meeting of a faculty committee, Joan Anderson and Sandra Johnson were chosen to be co-editors of the Reflector. Meeting again the committee, along with the new editors, chose the staff heads, who in turn picked their staffs.

The lateness of the starting date made it imperative to begin at once. The inner-guidance office, selected as the working quarters of the staff, from then on was the scene of many conferences among the staff heads. Editing and writing copy, assigning stories and scheduling pictures were some of the many things that had to be done, along with preparation of a dummy Reflector, invaluable as an organizational device. Important decisions were made, one of which concerned a very controversial issue — the question of having a theme — which is what many people consider makes a yearbook interesting — or not spending so much money and time and not having a theme. The entire Reflector staff voted on this issue; the practical side prevailed so this year finds the Reflector without a theme.

Forming the nucleus of the yearbook's staff were the following persons: Joan Anderson and Sandra Johnson, Co-editors-in-chief; Mary Lee Johnston, Feature editor; George Derrah and Richard Hatch, Co-business managers; Darrell McDougal, Circulation manager; Phil Thibodeau and Coralie Rogers, Co-sports editors; Pauline Rossignol, Exchange editor; and Pamela Johnson, Literary editor. Assisting a great deal during their free time were typists: Greta Espling, Louella Getchell, Hilda Damboise and Lolita Devoe.

Student Government Operates Well

The Student Council, which is advised by Mr. Amsden, is one of the most important organizations in Caribou High School. At the beginning of the year the following officers were elected: Garfield Boutilier, President; Marilyn Merritt, Vice President; and Barbara Bernard, Secretary-Treasurer.

The first meetings were spent in discussion of beneficial ways of disposing of the money of clubs which were no longer in existence.

The organization again sponsored the Curtis Campaign and completed the purchase of a two-way intercommunication system which cost $2000.

Eight members were selected to attend the State Student Council Convention, which was held in Belfast, Maine, last November. We were all very happy to hear that Deleston Cote, representative from the Junior Class, was elected Second Vice-President of the State Association.

On May first a Northern Maine Regional Conference was held at Caribou High school to which all schools north of Lincoln were invited. The featured speaker, Reverend Alger Geary, spoke on the topic, "Training for Youth Leadership." Three workshops were held, with students acting as chairmen. In the afternoon the election of officers for the Northern District took place. Those elected were: Maynard Walton, Caribou, President; Rose M. Cyr, Fort Kent, Vice President; Marilyn Merritt, Caribou secretary; Roy Campbell, Stearns, Treasurer.

National Honor Society

The greatest achievement and honor that can be gained in high school is membership in the National Honor Society. This national society, first organized in the 1920's, is not a club, but a means of pointing out worthwhile students while they are Juniors and Seniors in high school.

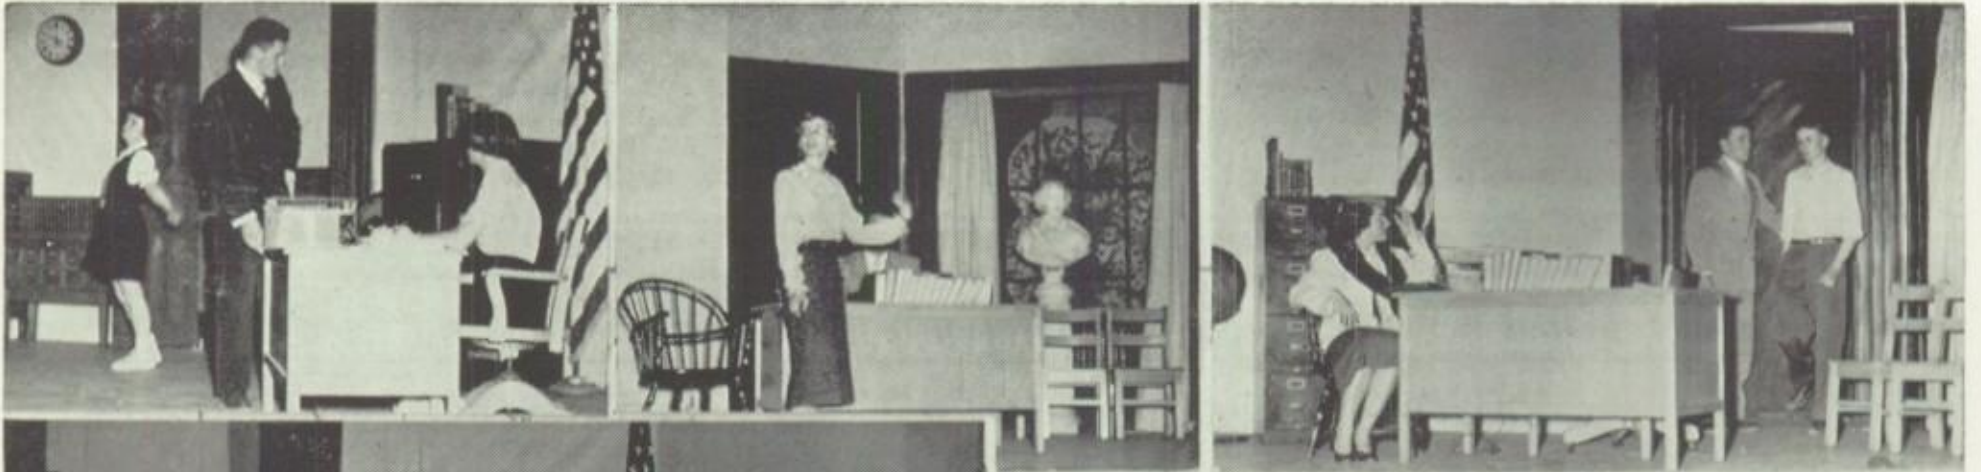

The Society members are chosen by a committee of teachers on four outstanding qualities. Number one, and perhaps hardest to attain, is scholarship, which means a member has to be in the upper third of his class. Cooperation with school regulations, meeting promptly responsibilities to school and teachers, and demonstrating highest standards of attitude toward honesty and reliability are all a part of the quality known as character. In order to be a person whom others will follow as an example, one must demonstrate leadership. In the class room, home, promotion of school activities, and contribution of ideas which improve the civic life of the school, this quality is highly desirable. The last requirement on the list is service, which is willingness to render any service to the school when called upon, readiness to show courtesy by assisting teachers, visitors, and students, and willingness to represent the school in interclass or inter-school competition.

Membership in the Society reaches a total of fifteen per cent of the class by the end of the Senior year. The five per cent selected in their Junior year were: Ellen Hale, Coralie Rogers, Pamela Johnson, Sandra Johnson, and Greta S. Espling. Ten per cent more were selected this year, namely Mary Lee Johnston, Richard Hatch, Elaine Irish, Emery Knowlton, Natalie Somers, Gail Parks, Phyllis Little and Joan Anderson.

A beautiful induction ceremony was held on class day with the old members welcoming in the new. After the ceremony the members were presented with a medal, indicative of an honor of which they will be proud long after other high school achievements have been forgotten.

MAJORETTES — A. Crouse, D. DeMerchant, E. Forbes, L. Getchell, D. Conant, M. Brown, N. Libby, C. Solman, Y. Pelletier, J. Beaulieu.

Majorettes Display New Routines

This year the majorettes under the able guidance of Mr. Haskell worked out many colorful and striking routines. With their capable leader, Marie Brown, the majorettes were seen leading the band during parades, adding color and zest to the festival, setting the tempo and adding spirit during the basketball games. They also spent long hours working with the junior majorettes. Senior majorettes this year were Marie Brown, Leader, Natalie Libby, Carolyn Solman, Doreen DeMerchant, Luella Getchell, Yvonne Pelletier, Eula Forbes, Delores Conant and Annette Bouchard.

Give Me A "C"

"Rah! Rah! Rah-rah-rah!" shouted the enthusiastic basketball fans led by the spirited Viking Cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders' uniforms received numerous compliments as the girls performed on the floor. This year they consisted of maroon skirts with white inserted pleats, maroon vests, white long-sleeved blouses, and maroon bow-ties.

The music cheers were a main attraction before game-time. Several snappy routines were done to tunes played by the Caribou band. Another well-liked cheer was "Caribou is Our Name."

The Varsity Cheerleaders were Joan Anderson, Coralie Rogers, Greta Espling, Mary

Lee Johnston, Doe Cote, and Carol Gagnon. Greta Green and Frances Gagnon took turns substituting, due to the absence of Dawne Cormier.

Those receiving their "C" letter were Joan Anderson, Coralie Rogers, Greta Espling, Doe Cote, and Frances Gagnon.

The Jayvee Cheerleaders supported the Jayvees and Frosh throughout the year as they exhibited a variety of new cheers. The girls were Jane Cason, Laureen Baldwin, Dina St. Peter, Janet Mushrall, Mary Buzzell, Rae Harmon, with substitutes Mary Harmon and Eldora Tompkins. Two of their best-liked cheers were the "Bunny Hop" and "Who For."

VARSIITY — Standing: K. Wyman, R. Ayer, O. Davenport, D. Cote, J. Brunner, R. Michaud, G. Smith, P. Thibodeau, G. Mauro, C. Cyr, D. Hebert, M. Corrow, Coach DeLois; kneeling: O. Toner, R. Bernard, managers.

DeLois Coached Team Wins Eight

Fall sports being over it was time to prepare for basketball, Caribou High school's favorite and best attended sport. Coach DeLois had a large group of boys present at the tryouts after the potato harvest. He watched them closely as they demonstrated various essential skills.

Making the team again this year were veterans, Gary Smith, Roland Michaud, Ken Wyman, Denny Herbert and Claude Cyr, last but not least Deli Cote.

Making the change from Freshmen Basket-ball to varsity were Omer Davenport, and Maurice Corrow. Four transfers from other schools, Jim Bruner, Ralph Ayer, Phil Thibodeau and George Mauro, helped a great deal with their shooting and rebounding power.

The Vikings worked hard in preparation for the Madawaska game, their first as a team.

Coach DeLois taught them plays, tactics and most important of all, good sportsmanship. He made many changes in the startiing line-up as the season progressed, giving each boy the chance to see action at least once in a game.

The season's schedule was as follows:

CARIBOU	OTHER

Future Varsity Candidates

The Jayvees compiled this year a very impressive record, losing but three of their scheduled games. Fort Fairfield accounted for two of the year's most exciting but heartbreaking losses, 47-48 and 53-54. Stearns accounted for the other Caribou loss, decided in an overtime period.

This year the boys played under the new coach, Mr. Bryant, sophomore English teacher. As we can see by his team's record, he was a great success in his first year of coaching. The boys respected him and gave him full co-operation. To these boys the student body extends recognition and hopes that their skill and sportsmanship will prosper in the oncoming years.

Much talent in the raw was uncovered and polished up by Coach Thurston on this year's Frosh squad. Although inexperienced and outclassed in most of their games, all of the boys showed up well under pressure. Their overall record is not very impressive, if judged only by dry statistics, but a true evaluation goes much deeper; the boys learned their lessons well, and were continually improving. With the invaluable experience of one season of high school basketball behind them, the class of '57 is now ready for bigger and better things, in J. V. and Varsity basketball.

County F. F. A. Champions

One of the best successful teams representing Caribou this season was the Future Farmers of America which came through with a record of nine victories and one defeat.

Many of the boys were veterans from last year's team, and they were soon able to work out many plays and routines which stopped their opponents.

At the end of the season, the boys entered the Future Farmers' Aroostook Tournament held at Fort Fairfield with a very impressive record. The pairing of the teams for the play-off was determined by drawing names.

The boys displayed skill and sportsmanship against Presque Isle, and went on to win by a margin of three points, 28-25. They then competed against Fort Fairfield for the final round and won the championship by a score of 44-38.

The boys of this year's squad were Gerald Chassie, Dale Doody, Gilbert Gallagher, Ronald Hale, Andrew Norton, Gary Richards, Alton Rockwell, Basil Rockwell, Wade Smith, Wesley Smith and Ronald Walton.

The boys were coached by Phil Rogers who did a fine job of molding the boys into a fighting and winning team.

The record runs as follows:

Varsity Nine Has Best C H S Record

The Caribou High Vikings, under the very capable coaching of Stuart Thurston, got off to the most enthusiastic start in five years. We are currently in second place in the Aroostook league with a record of four wins and one loss, that loss being accounted for by the league leading Shiretowners.

Looking at the record game by game, we observe that in the first tilt of the season the Caribou Nine were defeated 15 to 5 in a game which saw Thurston experimenting to find the right combination for his team.

In the next league game, played with Mars Hill, the Vikings launched themselves into the win column, with Jim Bruner hurling a three hitter to the visitors, defeating them eleven to three.

On May 6, the Vikings journeyed to Houlton, where the fans witnessed a gripping pitchers' battle between Jim Bruner and Bob Estey. Both allowed six hits but errors took their toll and the Shiretowners won 5 to 2.

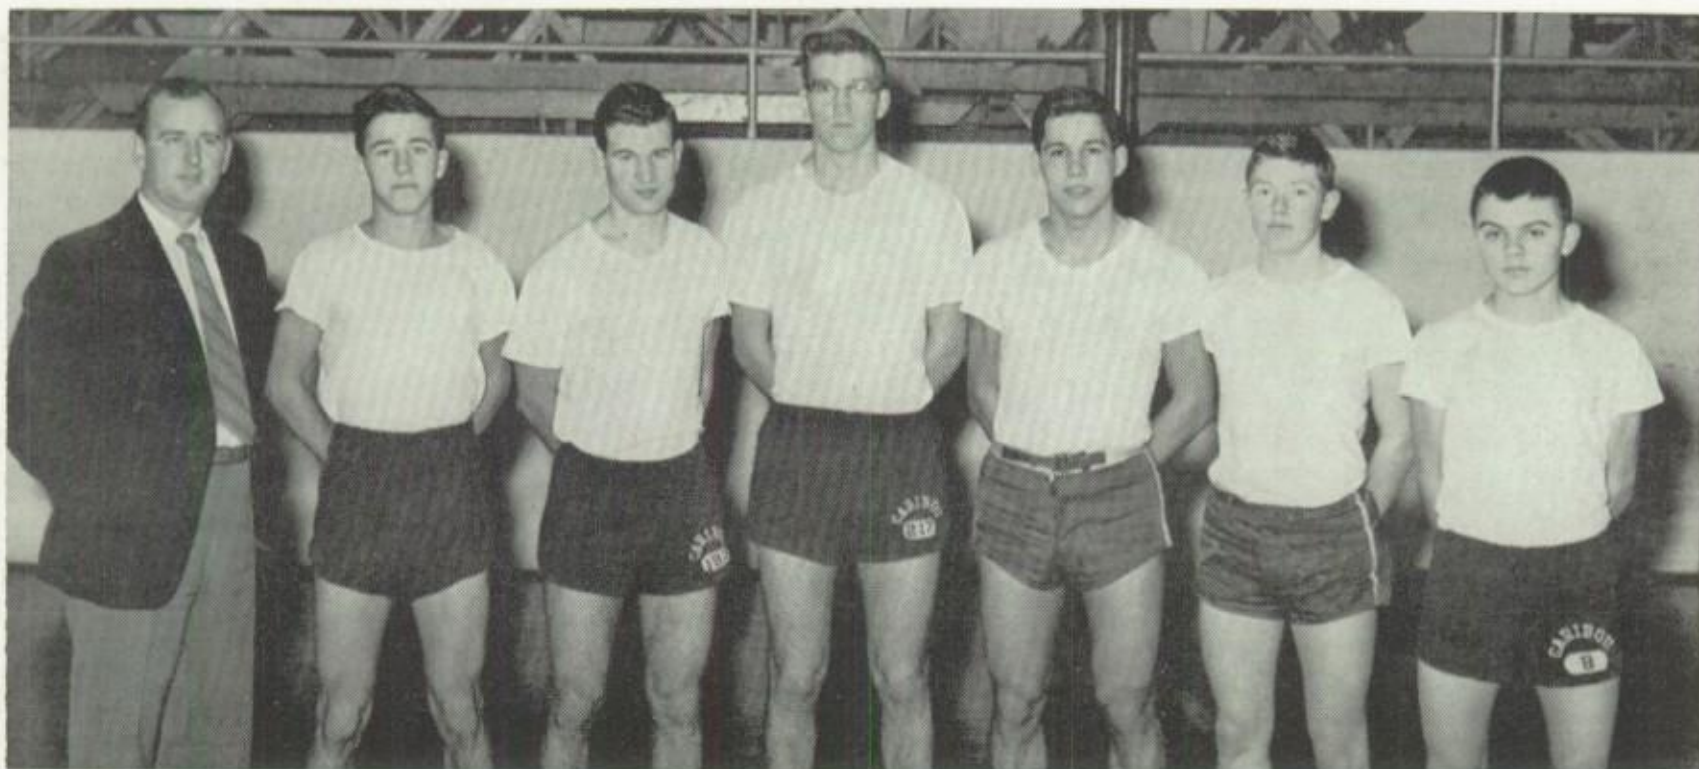

When Caribou played Washburn in a non-league tilt at the latter's home field, the Beavers were nosed out 8 to 7 in a ten inning battle. Louis Kelly was the winning pitcher.

On May 17, the Viking Nine were hosts to the Presque Isle Wildcats in a league game. Because of the constant hitting of Omar Davenport, Dave Bouchard, and Dennis Hebert, plus the masterful three hit pitching of Jim Bruner, the Vikings tamed the Wildcats 12 to 5.

The next day the Fort Fairfield Tigers played the Vikings in a wild and frantic tilt which Caribou won 13 to 11. Two days later, May 20, the Vikings traveled to Mars Hill and swamped the A.C.I. Nine 10 to 1.

The players on the Viking squad were: Jim Bruner, Dave Bouchard, Omar Davenport, Carroll Robertson, Darrel McDougal, Ronald Hale, Gregory Rasmussen, Louis Kelly, Dennis Hebert, Steve Cox, Kermit Staples, Maynard Walton, Ronald Walton, Robert Searles, Ralph Ayer, Galen Hitchcock. Managers were Nate Martin, Eddie Rogers.

CROSS COUNTRY — Mr. Frechette, D. Wharton, M. Walton, G. Hitchcock, D. Hebert, F. Martin, R. Bernard.

Cross Country Team

With the reopening of school our fall sport, cross-country, attracted the attention of the school body. Again the Caribou harriers, including veterans of last years team and with new volunteers, were coached by the able Mr. Frechette. Coach Frechette's cross-country team ran four races in 1953. The record indicates a rough season, but looking at the season race by race, we see the qualities of our team.

In the county meet, Caribou tied Ashland High for third place in a 98-98 deadlock.

When the C.H.S. Harriers were host to Ashland, they again were nosed out, 27-28, in a vigorous battle. Because of some misunderstanding, the Caribou squad was composed of a mere five men, with one of the top five missing. Fortunately those five were highspirited runners who would give all they had for the glory of their team and that of Caribou High. Richie Bernard captured a first place and Freddy Martin, a second, but these were in vain. The Ashlanders rushed five men over the finish line to assure themselves a 25-23 victory.

Richie Bernard was the only Caribou man to get his letter in cross-country, but full recognition and praise belong to the entire cross-country team.

JUNIOR HIGH J. V. BASKETBALL — W Hunter, J. Lagerstrom, F. Sprague, J. Ennis, G. Pelletier, Coach Brewer, K. Grant, B. Kelly, R. Burleigh, R. Miller, C. Walton, manager.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL — Seated: J. Clayton, manager, B. Rogers, R. Cyr, B. Goodine, B. Beaulieu, E. Lapointe, R. Sirois, C. Walton, manager; standing: Coach Brewer, E. Kidney, G. Corrow, P. Kelly, R. Theriault, R. Thompson, M. Lynch, M. Plourde, manager.

Junior High Team Wins County Laurels

With our first look at the Junior High team, the thought never came that this same scrappy team would capture the Aroostook County Championship. The fact remains that they met opposition and defeated it completely to mount to the very pinnacle of their league. It was Coach Brewer who viewed the tremendous group that crowded in the gymnasium for the team tryouts; it was he who chose the group he would work with, dividing them into two teams; but it was they who gave him the co-operation he needed to form the championship team, and again it was they who exhibited courage and the will to win and follow the expert guidance of their coach, the only way to rise to the very top.

The first team did make the top, while the second team lost to Fort Fairfield in the playoffs.

The first team included: Peter Kelley, Gene Corrow, Robert Cyr, Warren Sirois, Mike Lynch, Robert Theriault, Edmund Lapointe, Reginald Corrow.

In the years to come these champions and near champions, we hope, will continue to play organized basketball. If they harbor through their years the courage and will to win they exhibited this year, they will undoubtedly meet difficulty and opposition and will surmount or defeat it. We wish them the best of luck in Frosh, Jayvee, and even Varsity basketball.

The Junior Varsity record was:

Caribou 45	Limestone 20
Caribou 56	Mapleton 34
Caribou 58	Washburn 21
Caribou 35	Presque Isle 44
Caribou 60	Presque Isle 47
Caribou 36	Fort Fairfield 32
Caribou 50	Washburn 26
Caribou 94	Limestone 16
Caribou 46	Mapleton 28

Athletic Councils

Two student organizational groups, the Athletic Association Council and the Girls Athletic Association Council, have a great deal to do with the Caribou High athletic program.

The former council governs the sale of blanket tax cards which entitle the holders to admission to all home games and to a vote in the A.A. general meetings. The duties of the council are to maintain and purchase all sports equipment and to provide and present sports awards.

The G.A.A. Council, open to senior high members only, manages the girls' athletic program throughout the year. During the past year a Leaders Corps was organized to help officiate at Junior High sports events and to assist with the athletic program at the elementary schools.

G.A.A. COUNCIL — B. Bernard, S. Johnson, P. Johnson, E. Irish, G. Armstrong.

Girls' Athletic Association Program

The Girls' Athletic Association is one of the largest and most popular activities in Caribou High School. The girls' sports program is carried on throughout every week of the school year. In this organization any girl from the freshman class through to the senior class may participate in numerous sports, and by working diligently, may earn various awards.

In all the sports a record is kept of how many hours the girl has put into the sport and all the skills she has passed. By being in a sport, points can be earned; and when a certain amount has been reached, the girls are eligible for awards which are as follows:

1. The first award is made at the close of the freshman year and only after the girl has earned 50 points. The award is the numerals of the girl's graduation year.

2. The second award is made at the end of the sophomore year when the girl has earned a total of 100 points. The award is the "C" letter with a G.A.A. symbol.

3. The third award is given to the girl at the end of her junior year if the girl has a total of 150 points. The award is a specially designed State of Maine Letter.

4. The fourth award is an honorary one, a specially designed State of Maine pin, which is given at the close of the senior year if the girl has earned 200 points.

The candidate for this award must be approved by the faculty on the basis of her cooperation, sportsmanship, character and service during her school life.

5. A "C" letter may be earned by a basketball varsity player after she has 30 hours and has played in all of the games (or at least one-half) played.

Here is a brief outline of the sports offered during the school year.

On the G.A.A. sports program, hiking is included as a favorite fall sport. Managers for this year were Sandra Johnson and Elaine Irish, who were chosen for their leadership and interest in the club.

A large group of 25 members went on six hikes in the fall. The first was a five-mile round trip hike to the fish hatchery. The second and fourth hikes were taken out by the airport on the Van Buren road. The girls hiked for two hours. The third hike was taken along the favorite route, the New Sweden road; and a new trip this year for the hikers was the Washburn road where the last and final hike of the year was made. Miss Buzzell, the G.A.A. faculty advisor, accompanied the girls on these hikes.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

One of the most popular of all sports was intramural basketball, which had one of the largest turnouts. This year's basketball teams were set up differently from those of the past. The council chose seven captains who were dependable, capable, and good athletes. These captains met and chose their teams from the 80 members signed up for the sport. For the first time the classes were separated. The captains were: Nancy Deschains, Carol Gagnon, Betty Brewer, Barbara DeMerchant, Natalie Derrah, Sondra Kinney, and Anna Rae King. The winning team was Nancy Deschains' which won all of its games. The team included: Florence Plourde, Doris Pelletier, Natalie Libby, Barbara Clevette, Marie Paradis, Yvonne Pelletier, Mary Snowman, Esther Goulette, Donna Gerard, and Iris Mahoney. Those who helped score and who officiated also earned points toward their awards.

WINTER SPORTS

The winter sports consisted of skiing and skating, with the latter receiving the greater turnout. The girls practiced skating two or three times a week at the Teague Park Skating Rink, where they learned the fundamentals of skating and various figure-skating skills. Weather conditions prohibited much of the skiing, but with the instruction of Mr. Frechette at the ski-tow, the girls practiced slaloms. Elaine Irish was manager for the skiing and Sandra Wark was manager of the skating.

SOFTBALL

About the last sport on the program was softball. The girls practice in the park after school, playing off with teams organized into a tournament. This year the four teams were made up of girls from all classes. The officials and timekeepers were the students who were earned points toward their awards. The games were all in fun, and good sportsmanship was shown throughout. The managers were Rebecca Crane, Theresa Bouchard and Carol Johnston.

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball ranked high among the sports offered by the G.A.A. this year. The competition was keen among the different teams as they battled it out in the gym after school. The teams were divided according to classes, and the seniors emerged victorious with straight wins. The managers were Theresa Bouchard and Sandra Lander.

WINTER SPORTS — D. Hebert, C. Gagnon, M. Walton, G. Levasseur, E. Cyr, R. Ouellette, R. Crane, P. Tornquist, R. Searles, T. Collins, F. Clayton, J. Holmquist, Mr. Frechette.

Winter Sports Revival Noted

Many factors this year favored the good winter sports team; the snow was plentiful, the ice was solid, the weather cold, and above all, the talent and courage abounded in CHS. After organized practice and workouts of their own, the Caribou Team held their first meet at Ashland. There, the Caribou Snowbirds secured a third place with the expert help of Dennis Hebert and Judson Holmquist and Maynard Walton.

In the county meet held at Caribou, the Caribou squad accomplished what is probably the outstanding team performance in CHS this year. They finished a strong second in a meet comprised of seven entries. Dennis Hebert again led the way with one first, three seconds, and a single fourth. A great deal was also contributed by Judson Holmquist and Maynard Walton.

At Fort Kent the team finished a respectable third with Dennis Hebert, Judson Holmquist, Maynard Walton and Robert Nelson again leading the way.

Another winter sport which had its start in CHS this year, and which is gaining popularity by leaps and bounds, was the international winter sport of hockey. It was the initiative of Mr. Frechette that brought the idea into being. This year only a few games were played among the hockey lovers of CHS. Coach Frechette has high hopes that hockey will come up to a par with basketball and baseball in the near future. He trusts that a regular intramural hockey league will be started next winter. The All Stars of these teams may have the opportunity of competing and rating themselves with opponents from other towns.

Predicted for next year are bigger turnouts of hockey enthusiasts and a faster league, with more opportunities for improvement for the boys taking part in this new and exciting sport.

Judson Holmquist, Dennis Hebert, and Maynard Walton earned their letter for winter sports.

Girls Gain Second Undefeated Season

This year the girl's varsity was again one of the most outstanding teams in Aroostook County. The girls won seven games, making a total of 16 games during 1953-54. Practicing only on Tuesday and Friday, the girls were able to stop opposing teams and rack up high scores. As usual, there was a good game where the going was tough. At Ashland, Caribou was the underdog in the game up until the last quarter. Overcoming an eight point deficit, the girls finally went on to win by fourteen points.

Coaching the team this year was Miss Buzzell. Miss Buzzell had many of the girls from last year, as she lost only four by graduation.

At the beginning of the year, the team went to Andover, N. B., where they put on a demonstration for Andover High School.

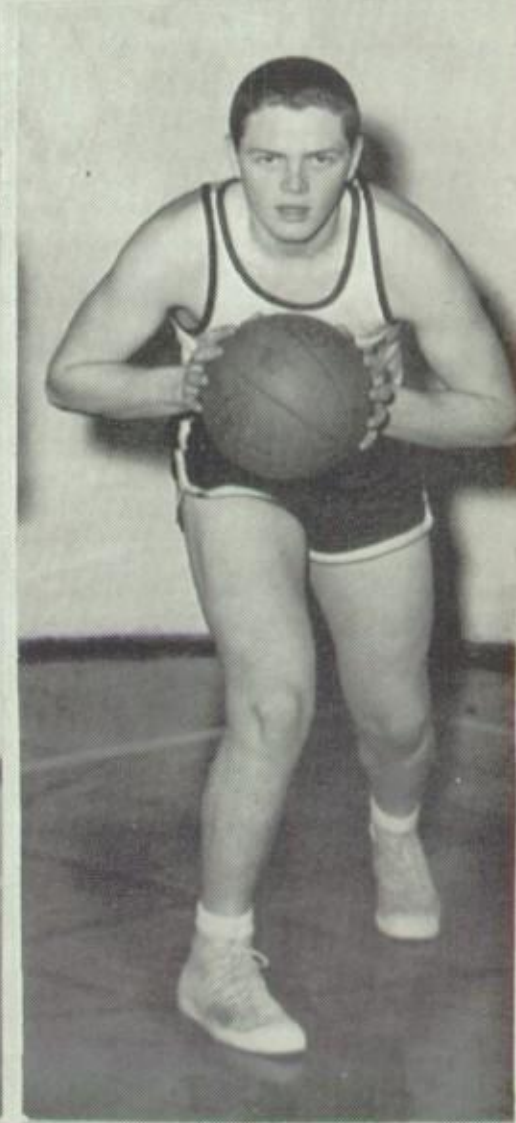

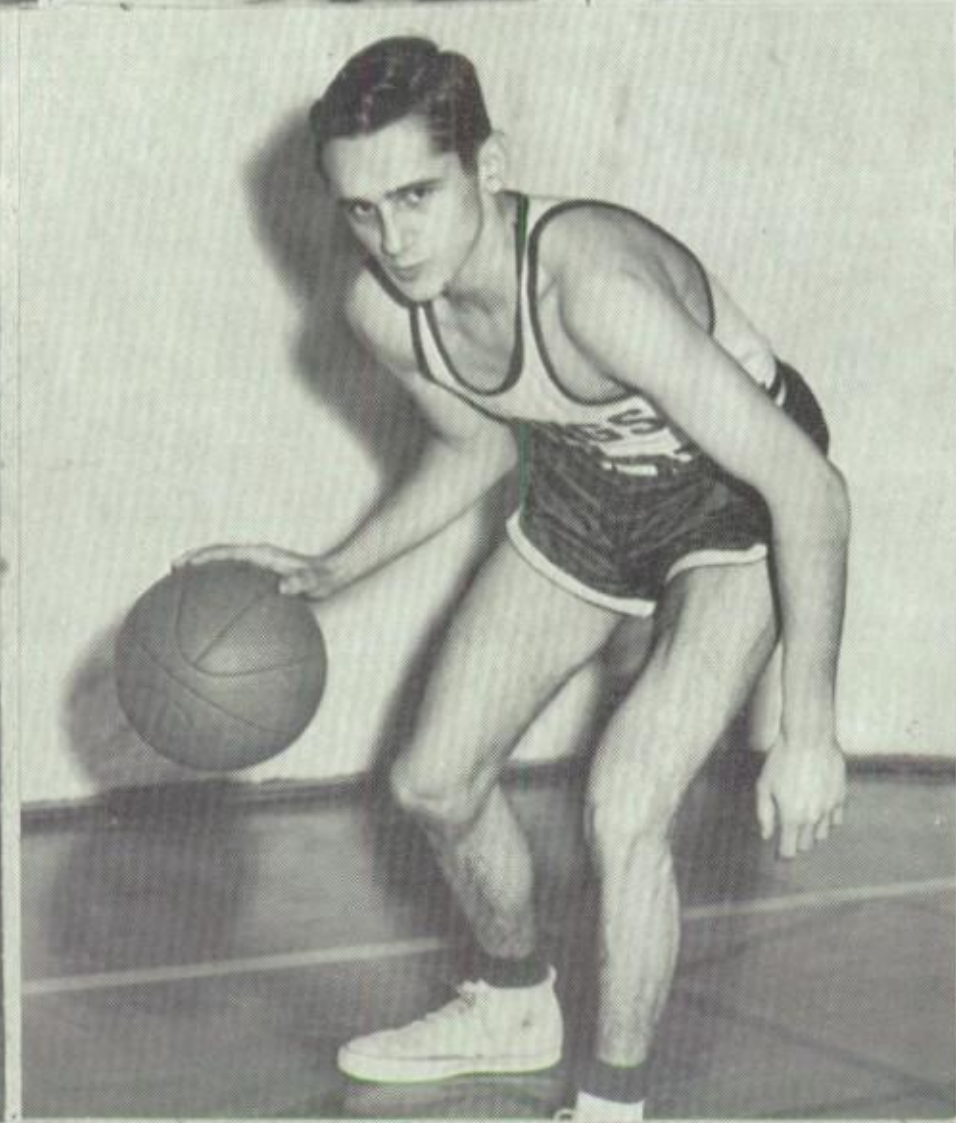

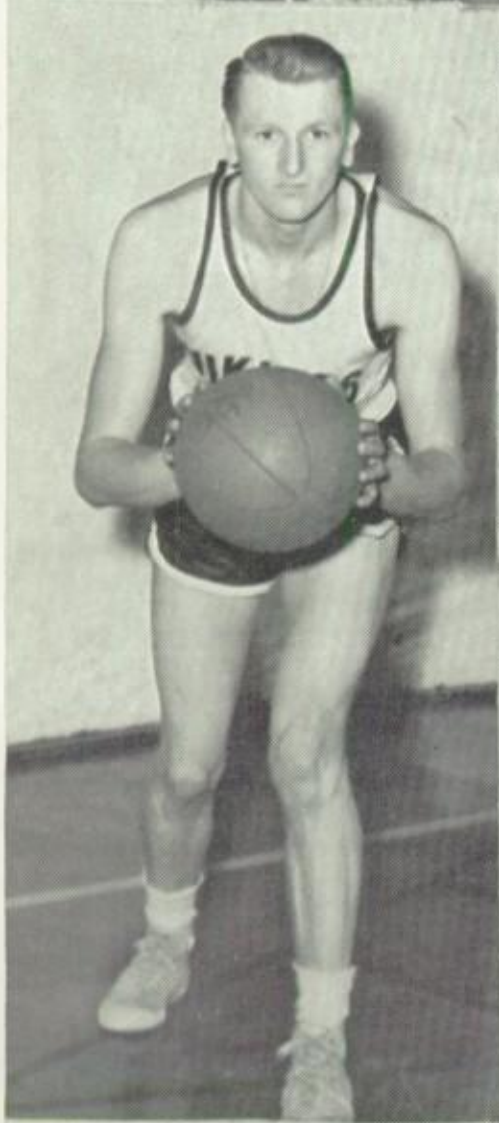

The forwards, who showed plenty of fighting spirit and shooting ability throughout the season were: Seniors, Coralie Rogers, Sandra Johnson, and Elaine Irish. The guards, who used teamwork and a good defense against their opponents, were: seniors, Greta Espling, Ellen Hale, Pamela Johnson, and one sophomore, Gail Armstrong. This line-up was used by Miss Buzzell throughout the basketball season.

Also seeing a lot of action and showing themselves capable of filling the forward posts next year are juniors Elaine Chapman, Charlotte Chapman, and Marilyn Merritt. A promising sophomore is Thelma Cyr. The rest of the team, ready with help when needed, were, forwards, Frances Gagnon, and guards, Mary Etta Hopper and Jane Cason.

Those receiving their Varsity Certificates were Elaine Irish, Coralie Rogers, Sandra Johnson, Luella Getchell and Marilyn Merritt. Those receiving letters were Greta Espling, Ellen Hale, Pamela Johnson, Gail Armstrong, Charlotte Chapman and Jane Cason.

Assisting Miss Buzzell, and receiving her letter, was Mary Lee Johnson, who had Mary Thompson as her assistant.

ADVERTISING

THE STAFF OF THE 1954 REFLECTOR, ON BEHALF OF THE GRADUATING CLASS, WISHES TO THANK OUR ADVERTISERS. ONLY THROUGH THEIR COOPERATION WERE WE ABLE TO COMPLETE ARRANGEMENTS FOR THIS YEAR'S CLASS BOOK. IT IS OUR SINCERE HOPE THAT ALL OUR READERS WILL REVIEW THIS SECTION CAREFULLY, AND, WHENEVER POSSIBLE, PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS.
